‘World Nature Conservation Day’ is globally celebrated every year on 28 July. It acknowledges that a healthy environment is the foundation for a stable and healthy society.

Earth’s natural resources include air, minerals, plants, soil, water and wildlife. Conservation is the care and protection of these resources so that they can be preserved for future generations. It includes maintain diversity of species, genes and ecosystem, as well as functions of the environment, such as nutrient cycling.

The school propagated to conserve natural resources and not to waste or pollute it unnecessarily by presenting a speech during assembly on importance of nature. A poster was sent to create awareness among students and their family.
