World Population Day

World Population is observed on July 11 and is being observed across the globe. It aims at spreading the awareness of global population issues. World Population Day was established by the United Nations Development Programme. People should be aware on various issues such as the importance of family planning, maternal health, poverty. As on statistics received World's population has crossed 7 billion people in 2021 which is again a serious issue to think upon. China has the largest population in the world followed by India, the United States, Indonesia, and Pakistan. Fourteen (14) countries have populations greater than 100 million. Ninety-one (91) countries have populations greater than 10 million.

By the grace of almighty we have been blessed with the many resources on this planet but do we able to retain those resources or can we sustain without being felicitated with such resources. No, we cannot so to have sustainable future we need to buck up to control this increasing population.

In lieu of all the above facts it has been initiated to celebrate this day every year to bring awareness in people about living a healthy life and to protect our human rights.

The Slogan of World Population Day is,

"Sustainable growth for a sustainable future!" "Small family, happy family!"
"One Earth, One Family, One Future."
